

LARSON ♦ JUHL

Your Source For Quality Picture Framing Products Since 1893

1st October, 2007

Larson Juhl commends the Franchise that is represented by Mr Andrew Scott and trades under the name of “Complete Framing”.

Andrew and his team have successfully operated in both their own right as Framers and as a Franchise operation for many years now and their commitment to both their customers and their Franchisees is unquestionable.

Larson Juhl, as the leading World wide supplier to the Framing Industry, is pleased to be able to count Complete Framing as one of our business partners and thoroughly supports Andrews on-going work to continually raise the standards of the Industry and to strive to surpass his customers expectations.

Andrew and his talented design team are continually searching for new and more efficient ways of doing things. They challenge the existing practices and methods of the industry and primarily focus on framing design. This leads not only to higher customer satisfaction levels, repeat and referral business but also encourages the Public to realise what the difference is between the Big box framing supplier and the Custom Framer.

Complete Framing use the best materials that are available on the market today that are appropriate for the work that they are framing. These range from Conservation grade products in both Glass and Matboard through to high-end mouldings that are not readily available in the marketplace. All of this results in a superior finished product that not only enhances the customer’s satisfaction but also represents great value for money.

Every one of The Complete Framing Franchises that Larson Juhl deals with have been successful in their own right, which leads to a strong belief in not only their Brand but also a confidence in their business model.

Keep up the good work Andrew.
